

The MrDIRTcar Pro-Stock Series has been postponed to Saturday, September 13!

Cantley, PQ – Monday, September 8, 2008 – Martin Bélanger – The final decision has been taken for the MrDIRTcar Pro-Stock series race. After a few meetings with drivers and DIRTcar members, Edelweiss Speedway decided to go ahead and reschedule the race this Saturday, September 13 starting at 2pm.

This race was added on the schedule of the annual enduro that will be presented right after the 100-lap feature event paying a cool $1500 to the winner and over $7000 in prize money. The best drivers of the pro-stock series confirmed their presence for Saturday. The Centre Sports Motorisés 4-wheeler series was also added to the afternoon has a support class.

The 100-lap feature for 8 cylinders street type cars, 50 laps for 4 and 6 cylinders and also a powder puff race for the ladies will then be next on the speedway.

The general admission cost has been modified to 15$ because of the addition of this great event. The cost will 22$ to get in the pit area.

Please note that there will be no racing on Friday, September 12. The management had announced this to several people when the September 5th night was cancelled but this decision was reversed for different reasons. The Semi-Pro, 4 cylinders and Mod-Lite will be back in action on the last program of the season on Friday, September 19.

This Saturday, the pit gates will open at 10am, general admission at 11:30am and the races will start at 2pm sharp.

We invite you for this great afternoon of racing, come and encourage the best Pro-Stock drivers and also come enjoy yourself by watching the enduro races.
