

Mother Natures collects the win at Edelweiss Speedway

Cantley, PQ – Friday, July 18, 2008 – Martin Bélanger - One of the biggest nights of the year was scheduled for tonight at Edelweiss Speedway as the Empire Super Sprints were in town for the first of three visits plus a complete race program and the Centre Sports Motorises 4-wheelers race series.

Mother Nature had other plans in mind with thunderstorms and rain throughout the day on Friday that forced promoter Serge Lagacé to cancel tonight's program. It is the first time this year that a race program is cancelled because of bad weather.

The Empire Super Sprints will back at Edelweiss on August 15 for their second visit of the year on the Canadian Cancer Society night.

Another great program is on the schedule with the Quebec Mini-Sprints Association will be in the pits. These small-scale sprint cars can reach great speeds. Along with the mini-sprints, a complete race program and a wet track enduro is also on the schedule of the Boucherie du Village night. Be there!
