

The EDG Equipments Weekend Warriors becomes reality

Gatineau, Québec – Saturday, May 15, 2010 – Martin Bélanger – Edelweiss Speedway and Brockville Ontario Speedway have decided to team up and build a 4-race series for the modified category that will be held during the season at the two tracks.

The EDG Equipment Company owned by the Gauvreau brothers Eric and Denis Gauvreau have joined the series and will be the major sponsor of the 4-event series.

Le but de cette série est d'offrir aux pilotes un peu d'argent supplémentaire grâce au fond de points qui sera remis à la fin de la série et également d'offrir la possibilité aux pilotes de se mesurer à d'autres coureurs dans un environnement différent.

A point's fund of $2,000 will be divided to the top 5 drivers that will have accumulated most points in participating in the 4 races. The winner will go home with $750, second will get $500, third $400, fourth $250 and fifth will have $100.

The first race of the EDG Equipment Weekend Warriors Series will be held at Autodrome Edelweiss on Friday, June 25th, Brockville Ontario Speedway will host the second race the following on Saturday, June 26, the series will then head back to Edelweiss on Friday, August 6 and finish at Brockville on Saturday, August 21.

This series will be enable drivers from both tracks to compete against each other and determine who his grand champion.

Series Schedule

Friday, June 25, 2010 – Autodrome Edelweiss (30 laps)

Saturday, June 26, 2010 – Brockville Ontario Speedway (30 laps)

Friday, August 6, 2010 – Autodrome Edelweiss (30 laps)

Saturday, August 21, 2010 – Brockville Ontario Speedway (30 laps)

